AN IMPORTANT MATTER.
Next Monday evening the Town Council will be called upon to settle one of the most important questions that has been brought before that body for some years past.

Mayor Hauser and the other members of the council should not hesitate to take a stand that will settle once and for all the question of the "special privilege" that was illegally granted to the Bloomfield Savings Institution by a former mayor and council.

The establishment of a permanent building lines on the important business streets of the town is, under ordinary circumstances, a serious proposition, but owing to the situation created by the bank, the problem is particularly serious on Broad street at the present time.

All personal, business or social considerations should be eliminated by the members of the council in acting on this matter and a building line established on Broad street from Bloomfield avenue to Franklin street, based on a spirit of fairness and justice.

The whole question has narrowed itself to two points, that of the establishment of a building line based on the old deed line or allow all property owners on the entire block to build out the same number of inches beyond their deed line as the savings institution managers have erected their building out beyond their line.

Public opinion is strongly in favor of the council taking steps to force the bank back on its own property and give back to the public the land which the bank is now illegally occupying.

The property owners who are active in discussing this matter in the open want all the interests of every property owner, and the public interests as well protected, and do not seek from a standpoint of personal gain the few inches of land that would accrue to them if the line was extended out. They are asking only for the same rights afforded to the bank and ask that the entire line of the street be made uniform and not disfigured by an irregular line of buildings when the street is developed in the future.

If the councilmen do not think it best to take legal proceedings against the savings bank for the removal of the building from the sidewalk, then the other property owners are entitled, beyond question, to the same privilege. In short, the bank should go back, if not, the line should go out the same number of inches that the bank building projects out and thereby establish the same width of sidewalk as is maintained on the opposite side of said street.

BELIEF FOUNDED ON REASON.
In a pamphlet issued by the mayor and council of the Borough of Glen Ridge bearing on the special election to be held next Tuesday at which the proposed purchase of the Orange Water Company's plant in the borough will be the issue, the officials express the belief that it would be the best interest of the borough to acquire the plant and among several reasons given as a foundation for that belief is one that is of local interest and is as follows:

"Our neighboring municipalities, Bloomfield, Nutley, East Orange and Orange, have acquired their distributing systems, greatly to the benefit of their citizens and to the pecuniary profits of the municipalities." The results attained in Bloomfield and East Orange are briefly referred to. "Bloomfield acquired its distributing system in 1904, and has since operated the system as a municipal plant. In 1910 the cost to produce and distribute was $91,000 per million gallons, as against $300,000 per million gallons charged in Glen Ridge by the Orange Water Company. Out of the earnings of the plant Bloomfield has paid all operating and production expenses and additions of $7,605.94, had set aside a sinking fund of $7,087.50, had made a reserve for depreciation of plant of $6,206.31, and in addition had made a profit of $21,558.12, after having twice reduced the price of water to consumers in the town. In the year 1910 the city of East Orange, from the receipts of its municipal water plant paid all production and operating expenses, bond interest, sinking fund and laid out $31,010.78 for extensions, construction and betterment, and still had a surplus for the year."

Borough School Work

Some of the work accomplished during the year by the Glen Ridge Board of Education and the needs of the school are discussed in the seventeenth annual report issued by that body. Concerning medical inspection, it is said:

"During the past year special consideration has been given to the teeth, and those reported defective were given proper attention by the parents. It has been gratifying to see the results obtained by the inspection, and, above all, the correction of visual defects by suitable glasses. In general, the children are healthy and robust. The prevailing cases are those of enlarged tonsils, defective teeth and cataract of the eyes.

As to school decoration the report says:

"It is not expedient to provide in the tax budget for the decoration of the building by work of art. If, however, those of the citizens who are interested in the schools desire to have them present an appearance in accordance with our standing as a community, such contribution to the art fund, either in money or in pictures, is desirable."

Sidney G. Firman, the head of the schools, in his report gives the total registration as 700, an increase of ninety-nine over that of last year. He states that if the growth continues several new rooms for the high school will be soon needed.

The estimated budget for the year, from July 1, 1912 to July 1, 1913, is $57,791.25. The total expected from the State is estimated at $17,375.

At the commencement in June, it is announced thirteen students will graduate from the high school.

An increase of about fifteen per cent in the running expenses of the schools is laid to increased enrollment, added cost entailed by extra accommodations and more pay for teachers.

Town Hall Resolution

At the Board of Trade meeting Thursday night the town hall proposition was brought up by H. C. Beck, who offered a resolution favoring a building and recommending that the Board of Trade urge the Town Council to consider the project in view of the fact that the present offices are inadequate.

The resolution was passed after a long debate in which F. H. Wentworth and Dr. W. R. Broughton opposed the resolution on the ground that definite information should be first obtained and figures submitted to the board before taking action.

Pledges to Seminary.

A woman friend of the German Theological Seminary and who is a resident of Newark, has pledged a contribution of $1,000 conditional that a fund of $5,000 be raised for the dedication of a "Reformed Church" room to be placed in the proposed new Knox Memorial Hall adjoining the seminary building.

On the strength of this another woman friend has pledged the sum of $5,000 toward the general building fund of Knox Memorial Hall.

BRIEF NOTES.

The Men's Club will meet on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. A subject of general interest will be discussed. Come and bring a friend!

President Taft has been invited to open the Newark Industrial Exposition in the First Regiment Armory, May 13.

The executive committee sent him an invitation and asked that he deliver an address and press a button that will light up the show and start moving exhibits.

The annual meeting of the Sunday-school Superintendents' Association of Orange and vicinity will be held in the Miller Chapel of the Orange Methodist Church next Wednesday night.

After the election of officers there will be a general discussion on "Missionary Exercises." A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Willis James, a clerk in the post office, is confined to his home in Walnut street, with an attack of ptomaine poisoning, but the attending physician says he will recover. Mr. James was a guest at a banquet given in Newark Wednesday night by Clarence Dean, another postoffice clerk. He ate heartily of lobster salad, to which his illness is attributed.

A man who said he was Richard Law of 115 Walnut street Montclair, was struck by a train on the Greenwood Lake branch of the Erie Railroad, Thursday night. He was taken to Mountaineer Hospital, suffering from a scalp wound and a fractured wrist. It is thought he gave a fictitious name, as he was not known at the address given.

Funeral services for William P. Sands, 68 years old, for fifty years cashier of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, New York, who died Thursday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Underhill, Claremont Avenue, Montclair, will be held this afternoon at the Church of the Incarnation, Brooklyn. Interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Preparations for the banquet to be given by the Montclair Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, in the Hotel Montclair, have been completed and places will be laid for 150 guests at the dinner. Governor Wilson will be the principal speaker of the evening.

THE MAN OF THRIFT.

His home is not too large to be well kept; he has a good garden, with not a weed in it; he collects every cent that is due him, and pays every obligation on the minute; he does a double share of work, but takes advantage of every holiday. A little tin bank on the mantle for the baby and the big steel vault at the savings bank for himself. He has learned to save the little bits, and that the savings bank is the best school of thrift.

THE BLOOMFIELD SAVINGS INSTITUTION at No. 11 Broad street, is ready to assist every effort to save, and has rendered this service for forty years.

It pays to deposit in an old institution of proved ability.

Many persons suffer with every symptom of flat-foot when, upon ordinary examination of the foot, the foot is normal. A person having this trouble usually complains of pains and aches in the feet, tiring after short walks, and a desire to rest the toes and a general burning sensation, also pains in the back and spine and nervousness are frequently found to be caused by this condition. In the later stages, the muscles have become so weakened and relaxed that the weight of the body crushes down the arch structure. Come in and let me examine your feet. I have arches and other orthopedic appliances designed by Dr. Scholl, and endorsed by medical authorities.
